HIGH - QUALITY GLADIOLUS

In former years these bulbs have been distributed through several of the largest bulb jobbers in America. Over twenty car loads, about twelve million Glad bulbs, were shipped from the Grants Pass district during the 1929 season. It is quite possible that you have been growing Grants Pass bulbs with highly satisfactory results, not knowing you were doing so. We venture that if you have, you have been paying much higher prices for them than those quoted below. These prices are based on distribution direct from the grower to you with all of the intermediate profits and overhead cut out so that you may meet present business conditions with more assurance of a profit.

All bulbs offered herein are early harvested, well cured stock. Graded full and their healthy condition is certified through inspection by the official inspector of the Oregon State Board of Horticulture. Compare these prices and varieties of top quality with the same stock obtainable elsewhere and you will readily see the advantage of allowing us to supply your needs throughout the season.

PUSSY WILLOWS

Our greenhouse department has been supplying this excellent decorative material to the trade for several seasons. Those that have used our Oregon grown stock know full well its high quality but for the benefit of our new friends it might be well to state that our stock is all cut from a natural hybrid species of Salix found particularly in Oregon. The catkins are larger than the usual Salix Discolor, and silvery-pink to silvery-blue. Bark is red-brown. Cutting will begin about the fifteenth for ready to use sprays and as the crop is going to be short, you had best let us have your order early. Remember that when kept in a cool moist place this stock will stay in good shape six to eight weeks.

ASSORTED 2 to 4 foot lengths; most used.
